Key Takeaway

Check in to see if your values are aligned to those of the company and business you work for. The first 5 values are your CORE DNA – and treat them as such. These can't change as they are a branch of YOU.

The second 5 are more fluid and will change depending on environment, maturity and wisdom.

The Key question to ask yourself if the top 5 are totally misaligned is whether this is the feeling you have working in the role you are in today.

Have you ever wondered why things just don't click or things are right but you can't put your finger on it.

Here is the answer.

You have three choices.

1. Try and change the people or the role, business to make these work better
2. Accept that there is nothing you can do to change the situation so accept it continue as the status quo
3. Choose to make the decision to leave

All have consequences – at the end of the day how long are you going to tolerate not being true to who you are and your values.

Find yourself the right bus with the right people going in the right direction.

Your identity is your destiny so embrace it – it all becomes too easy.
