

MORE.

More women. More leadership.

FRIDAY 28 JULY 2017 / THE LANGHAM, AUCKLAND

Brought to you by

PARADIGM SHIFT

A no-holds barred look at how to get more women on the leadership path – and keep them there.

Getting more women into leadership requires less angsting about the challenges and more action to leverage the opportunities.

Join successful and aspiring business leaders at the MORE Summit to:

- Gain more insight into why too few women are leaders and what needs to change.
- Get more tools for taking action.
- Achieve a more real and up-front look at the systemic and personal challenges holding back aspiring and existing women leaders.
- Gain more clarity on how women can get on the path to leadership and stay there.

PERFORMANCE

- Being inspired by other leaders
- Aspiring to take on a leadership role oneself
- Knowing how to explore possibilities
- Working hard (perspiration!)
- Communicating with others and knowing what to say
- Collaborating strategically

All of these actions are key to achieving more women leaders. Our presenters and panelists will share their personal stories, insights and hard-won lessons learned.

Panel Discussion

Asking the hard questions

A real and upfront look at all of the challenges holding back aspiring and current women leaders. Come prepared for plenty of lively discussion and action planning.

PANELIST #1

Grant Kemble

CEO, PERPETUAL GUARDIAN

Grant joined Perpetual Guardian as CEO in September 2015, assuming responsibility for day-to-day management of the company. He has extensive commercial acumen from his legal background in legal services, particularly in transactional, capital markets and funds management work. He previously worked for Russell McVeagh, where he first joined as a solicitor in 1992. He became a Partner in the Corporate Advisory Group in 1998 and served as Chairman of the Board of Management in 2008 and 2009. He is regarded as one of the premier corporate lawyers in Australasia. Grant is also a non-executive Director of Airways New Zealand.

PANELIST #2

Glenda Parata

DIRECTOR, SHARED SERVICE NEW ZEALAND DEFENCE FORCE

Enjoying a successful career in management, Glenda has held a number of leadership and management roles where particular focus has been on change management, relationship building, developing and leading high performing teams, providing expertise in business management, process improvement, customer and corporate service delivery. Glenda's role as Director, Defence Shared Services Group, is responsible for developing and leading the establishment of Defence Shared Service Group strategy and vision, and defining short-term and long term strategies to align with the wider NZDF strategy.

PANELIST #3

Anne Columbus

GENERAL MANAGER CORPORATE SERVICES, CHRISTCHURCH CITY COUNCIL

Anne is an executive leader at Christchurch City Council overseeing corporate services and has led this unit through significant organisational change. Her current portfolio includes IT, risk, legal, the Procurement Programme, and facilities, property and planning. She is passionate about leadership in the local government sector and actively supports transformational change in people, process and technology. Prior to working in local government, Anne consulted in HR/organisational development, and before that spent 15 years in criminal investigation roles.

PANELIST #4

Sue Foley

DIRECTOR CORPORATE AFFAIRS, WESTPAC NEW ZEALAND LIMITED

Senior roles across government, television and public relations are just some of the positions held by Sue. She was also General Manager of Corporate Affairs of Toll NZ from 2003 - 2008, and was the spokesperson for the company during this time dealing with numerous crisis management incidents. Sue joined Westpac in 2010, where she was Assistant Vice Chancellor, External Affairs, responsible for the marketing and corporate communications. Sue is now responsible for the delivery of the reputation management, including media, government relations, sustainability, community, sponsorship, social media and internal communications. She is recognised as one of New Zealand's most well respected corporate affairs and reputation management executives.
